document.getElementById("demo").innerHTML = "Hello JavaScript!"; Try it Yourself » The tag is used to embed a client-side script (JavaScript). The element either contains scripting statements, or it points to an external script file through the src attribute. Common uses for JavaScript are image manipulation, form validation, and dynamic changes of content. Tips and Notes Tip: Also look at the element for users that have disabled scripts in their browser, or have a browser that doesn't support client-side scripting.

Tip: If you want to learn more about JavaScript, visit our JavaScript Tutorial. Browser Support | Element | Value | Description | | tag | | | async | async | Specifies that the script is downloaded in parallel to parsing the page, and executed as soon as it is available (before parsing completes) (only for external scripts) | | crossorigin | anonymous use-credentials | Sets the mode of the request to an HTTP CORS Request | | defer | | Specifies that the script is downloaded in parallel to parsing the page, and executed after the page has finished parsing (only for external scripts) | | integrity | filehash | Allows a browser to check the fetched script to ensure that the code is never loaded if the source has been manipulated | | nomodule | | Specifies that the script should not be executed in browsers supporting ES2015 modules | | referrerpolicy | no-referrer | Specifies which referrer information to send when fetching a script | | src | | Specifies the URL of an external script file | | type | script | Specifies the media type of the script | | | In XHTML, the content inside scripts is declared as #PCDATA (instead of CDATA), which means that entities will be parsed. This means that in XHTML, all special characters should be encoded, or all content should be wrapped inside a CDATA section: | | Global Attributes | | The tag also supports the Global Attributes in HTML. | Related Pages HTML tutorial: HTML Scripts HTML DOM reference: Script Object JavaScript Tutorial: Learn JavaScript
