

Continue

Last updated 20 July 2025 KS3 Spanish Grammar Worksheet - Present Tense of Ser, Estar, Ir, Ver (+ Answer Key) This printable Spanish grammar worksheet helps students master four of the most important irregular verbs in the present tense: ser, estar, ir and ver. Designed for KS3 Spanish learners (Years 8-9), the resource provides clear notes, conjugation practice, translations, common error corrections and a creative writing challenge. What's Included Student Worksheet (PDF): Grammar tables for ser, estar, ir, ver Helpful usage tips (ser vs estar) Conjugation table task English-to-Spanish translations Common mistake correction activity Guided writing challenge Teacher Answer Sheet (PDF): Complete conjugation answers Sample corrections Corrected error sentences Ideal for classroom, homework or self-assessment Why Teachers Love It Targets high-frequency irregular verbs early in KS3 Helps pupils clearly understand ser vs estar Simple, clear layout and scaffolded progression Easily printable and ideal for revision, cover, or homework A perfect partner to your -AR, -ER, and -IR Verb worksheets Test paid licenserow can I reuse this? A bundle is a package of resources grouped together to teach a particular topic, or a series of lessons in one place. Bundle KS3 Spanish Present Tense Grammar Mastery Bundle - 8 Worksheets + Answer Keys This comprehensive grammar bundle supports KS3 Spanish learners as they master all core present tense structures. With 8 fully printable worksheets and detailed teacher answer sheets, it's ideal for Years 8-9 learners and MFL departments wanting structured, ready-to-go grammar lessons. Each worksheet includes clear grammar notes, scaffolded tasks, translation, error correction, writing support - perfect for building fluency and confidence. What's Included: 8 Core Worksheets * Regular -AR Verbs - Regular -ER Verbs - Regular -IR Verbs * Irregular Verbs * Reflexive Verbs * Stem-Changing Verbs - e-ir, o-ue, e-i, u-ue * Present Continuous - estar + gerund (-ando / -iendo) * Model Verbs * Infinitive * past tense, regular and irregular verbs * Present Tense Why Teachers Love This Bundle * Covers every key present tense structure * Clear grammar tables and corrected examples * Tasks range from simple to independent * 100% student-led for quick marking and self-assessment * Perfect for grammar tasks, homework, and lessons of revision * Matches KS3 MFL scheme and progresses students from KS4 Worksheet Format * Each worksheet includes: * Grammar explanations * 4 scaffolded activities * Creative challenge tasks * Full teacher answers * Overall rating (no rating) is required to reflect your happiness Write a review Update existing reviewIt's good to leave some feedback! Something went wrong, please try again later! This resource hasn't been reviewed yet! To ensure quality for our reviews, only customers who have purchased this resource can review itReport this resource! Let us know if it violates our terms and conditions. Our customer service team will review your report and will be in touch. If your students are working on high frequency verbs, one of the most important verbs is the Spanish verb ser! This is something you might work in right away as students are working with subject pronouns, or maybe they'll just see "es" before any of the other verb forms. Either way, let's look at some ser worksheets for your middle school and high school students! Save this post for later on Pinterest! The present tense of the verb ser is conjugated like this: yo soy tú eres vos sois (Latin America) él es ella es ustedes son While you might introduce the ser conjugation forms all at once in a conjugation table, you might also choose to just introduce a few at a time when they come up in your stories depending on your preferred teaching method. Either way, when learning Spanish verb ser is one of the foundational verbs for students to learn! Identifying people or objects, time and date location of events, descriptions, origin, profession, relationships and possessions. Ser means "to be", but it's a bit more nuanced than that with some subtle differences between using ser and estar. Use of the verb ser takes plenty of time and repetition for students to master. If you're looking for traditional worksheets to practice the different conjugations in your Spanish Click here to download! Then, students can work on the "Yo También" writing sheet. Your Spanish students read & mark "Yo también" or "Yo no" for each sentence describing the person. Afterwards, they will re-write the sentence on the line, changing it to describe themselves. Next, they'll play a roll and write game! Roll the dice 2 times per group, and one die. They'll roll the die to attempt to steal the pencil from each other, and race to finish the worksheet first. Learn more about how to play here! Learn how to play here! Bump! is a fun, low prep review game that gets students speaking in a low-stress way. The materials needed are probably already in your classroom! Download the game board here! Materials Needed: Game board - make enough copies for pairs of students I die* per pair A set of markers per player. These should be different colors. Mini erasers, manipulatives like these, or even just squares of construction paper in different colors work great! Note: If you don't have dice, there are free "roll a dice" pages online, or even printable dice you could use instead! Here's a website that popped up when I googled it, but there are many out there to choose from. I love using dice so I have a bunch I keep handy. Here's my favorite way to store and use them with students: My set is very similar to this one! Now that you have gathered the materials, here's how to play Bump! Instructions: Players take turns to roll the die. They say the correct subject pronoun - either out loud, or written on a mini whiteboard - according to the number rolled. Then, they cover the correct word with one of their markers, covering the larger text. If another player has covered that form, they can "bump" that marker off, and put their own in its place. If the word is covered by one of the players own markers, they can put another marker on top and they have won that space. You can only bump if there is only one marker on the space. The game ends when all of the spaces have 2 markers on them. The winner has the most markers on the board. Are you familiar with sudoku? In this Spanish puzzle version, students fill in each row, column, and box with the different forms of the verb ser in the present tense. It's a great way to reinforce conjugation of the verb ser as students wind up repeating the forms in their head as they work on the Spanish puzzle. This set of Spanish worksheets includes a puzzle for ser and a puzzle for tener! Click here to download! Corre en Círculos is a great way to get students working with vocabulary and grammar while you get them up and moving! In this scavenger hunt style review game, students look at a small prompt on the bottom half of the page, record their answer on their answer sheet, then find the answer on a different clue card hung around the room. Learn more about how to introduce this to your students in my video. Students can do the scavenger hunt solo, in pairs, or in small groups! I let them choose and students always sort themselves as they work through the game. Visit the blog post here to learn more about this review game and grab a printable freebie to try out with your novices! This scavenger hunt set reinforces the verb ser and profession vocabulary. Students respond with the form of ser and the occupation in Spanish! Occupations Include: chef doctor(a) granjero bombero(a) carpintero(a) policia profesor(a) veterinaria camarero(a) Download the printable and digital game here! There is an additional version of the answer sheet that includes the occupations in Spanish for you to review vocabulary with your students prior to beginning the activity. The occupations are also provided in the form of printable cards in case you just wanted to print them as a visual reference for your Spanish students. An answer key is included with example sentences for you to check student work, as well as a digital version! In this scavenger hunt game, students practice using ser to describe people. Students see a prompt such as, "Yo _____ (intelligent)." Students respond with the form of the verb ser and the adjective in Spanish! Click here to download the game and answer key! Adjectives include: aburrido/aburrida alto/alta bajo/baja cómico/cómica divertido/divertida fuerte grande/guapo/guapa inteligente interesante paciente pelirrojo/pelirroja pequeño/perezoso/perezosa rubio/rubia simpático/simpática trabajador/trabajadora This is the perfect way to review description and adjective vocabulary while practicing the verb ser! An answer key is included, as well as a digital activity on Google Slides for absent students or another option for you! I love maze games for practicing Spanish vocabulary and grammar! In this lesson idea, students find their way through the maze by choosing the right answer on the path. They repeat those steps to find their way through the maze. Click here to download! For example, if a box reads, "Ashley _____ de los Estados Unidos.", they'll follow the path that says "es" because the subject of that sentence is the third person. They'll repeat that, step by step, until they "escape" and get to the end of the maze! This is such a fun way to gamify Spanish grammar as students work to pick the right choice and follow each correct answer out of the labyrinth. How it Works: Print & make copies, or assign the digital activity on Google Slides Students read the question in the first box They choose the correct answer and follow that path through the maze Repeat until they get to the end Along the way there are purposeful dead-ends in the maze. This is a great way to encourage critical thinking and makes these sheets self-correcting as students have to retrace their steps until they find the correct answer. Click here to read the blog post on maze games for Spanish class and grab a free download for la ciudad vocabulary. Click here to grab a free maze in the blog post! This worksheet is a great option for independent work, or even an interactive quiz. An answer key is included, too! Click here to see 10 ways to play maze games in your World Languages classes! This is probably the lowest prep option of the Spanish conjugation games in this list! Print off the board game, then just make copies. Students roll a die to move their game piece, then roll for which subject pronoun they'll conjugate for. Boom! Click here to download 2 versions of this review game! This is one of my favorite print and go activities! It's also great to have on hand for fast finishers. There are two versions of the game! One with ser and adjectives and one with se and Spanish-speaking countries. Scrambled sentences are a great way to get your students thinking and talking about the language collaboratively! Groups or partners work together to reassemble the scrambled sentence while working on the verb forms and emphasizing adjective agreement. Click here to download the worksheets! This set of activities includes instructions on how to use this game, and a few variations for you as well. One variation is a quick review that will take about 15 minutes, the other version can take up to 40 minutes with in-depth critical thinking about syntax and word order! On the worksheet, students write the Spanish sentences on each line, and in the subsequent blank sentences are translated to English to check for understanding. Spanish language learners need opportunities to speak with each other in low stress ways. Find someone who activities are one of my favorite options for speaking with novice and intermediate students! In this human bingo game, students get up and use their Spanish. Download the speaking handouts here! They try and find others to fill out their sheet asking each other questions, but each student can only sign another's paper one time! There is also a follow up writing activity for students to write sentences using the information from their classmates in the third person. Vocabulary includes: alto/atélico artístico bajo bonito castaño cómico creativo delgado estudioso fuerte guapo inteligente interesante paciente pelirrojo/rubio serio simpático trabajador. When students complete their sheet, they can go through each box with a quick show of hands! Dictation in Spanish class is a great way to practice listening comprehension and writing skills. You can choose to place an emphasis on spelling if you would like and encourage students to spell as accurately as possible to help them pay close attention to pronunciation. Download the set of worksheets and audio files here! This set of listening activities includes: Teacher's Guide & Notes 12 Running Dictation Slips - print & hang Running Dictation Sheets - with or without accuracy check Classic Dictation - record and translate Illustration Sheet Read and Draw page Listen, Write, and Draw Extension Activity - students write their own and trade with a partner Audio file (12 sentences, each repeated 2x) Script If you're looking for a great resource for your sub plans, color by conjugation worksheets are a great fit! These printable one-page worksheets reviews verbs by having students color the different verb forms according to the key. It's very similar to color by number, but they see the verb forms written out instead of numerals! In this set, there are three different color by conjugation sheets included to practice the forms of the verb "ser". This is a great option for after a quiz, a calm review day, or with a sub! The vosotros form is included on all three sheets. They're a great general practice to keep on hand. It's also great to have on hand for fast finishers. There are two versions of the game! One with ser and adjectives and one with se and Spanish-speaking countries. Scrambled sentences are a great way to get your students thinking and talking about the language collaboratively! Groups or partners work together to reassemble the scrambled sentence while working on the verb forms and emphasizing adjective agreement. Click here to download the worksheets! This set of activities includes instructions on how to use this game, and a few variations for you as well. One variation is a quick review that will take about 15 minutes, the other version can take up to 40 minutes with in-depth critical thinking about syntax and word order! On the worksheet, students write the Spanish sentences on each line, and in the subsequent blank sentences are translated to English to check for understanding. Spanish language learners need opportunities to speak with each other in low stress ways. Find someone who activities are one of my favorite options for speaking with novice and intermediate students! In this human bingo game, students get up and use their Spanish. Download the speaking handouts here! They try and find others to fill out their sheet asking each other questions, but each student can only sign another's paper one time! There is also a follow up writing activity for students to write sentences using the information from their classmates in the third person. Vocabulary includes: alto/atélico artístico bajo bonito castaño cómico creativo delgado estudioso fuerte guapo inteligente interesante paciente pelirrojo/rubio serio simpático trabajador/trabajadora This is the perfect way to review description and adjective vocabulary while practicing the verb ser! An answer key is included, as well as a digital activity on Google Slides for absent students or another option for you! I love maze games for practicing Spanish vocabulary and grammar! In this lesson idea, students find their way through the maze by choosing the right answer on the path. They repeat those steps to find their way through the maze. Click here to download! For example, if a box reads, "Ashley _____ de los Estados Unidos.", they'll follow the path that says "es" because the subject of that sentence is the third person. They'll repeat that, step by step, until they "escape" and get to the end of the maze! This is such a fun way to gamify Spanish grammar as students work to pick the right choice and follow each correct answer out of the labyrinth. How it Works: Print & make copies, or assign the digital activity on Google Slides Students read the question in the first box They choose the correct answer and follow that path through the maze Repeat until they get to the end Along the way there are purposeful dead-ends in the maze. This is a great way to encourage critical thinking and makes these sheets self-correcting as students have to retrace their steps until they find the correct answer. Click here to read the blog post on maze games for Spanish class and grab a free download for la ciudad vocabulary. Click here to grab a free maze in the blog post! This worksheet is a great option for independent work, or even an interactive quiz. An answer key is included, too! Click here to see 10 ways to play maze games in your World Languages classes! This is probably the lowest prep option of the Spanish conjugation games in this list! Print off the board game, then just make copies. Students roll a die to move their game piece, then roll for which subject pronoun they'll conjugate for. Boom! Click here to download 2 versions of this review game! This is one of my favorite print and go activities! It's also great to have on hand for fast finishers. There are two versions of the game! One with ser and adjectives and one with se and Spanish-speaking countries. Scrambled sentences are a great way to get your students thinking and talking about the language collaboratively! Groups or partners work together to reassemble the scrambled sentence while working on the verb forms and emphasizing adjective agreement. Click here to download the worksheets! This set of activities includes instructions on how to use this game, and a few variations for you as well. One variation is a quick review that will take about 15 minutes, the other version can take up to 40 minutes with in-depth critical thinking about syntax and word order! On the worksheet, students write the Spanish sentences on each line, and in the subsequent blank sentences are translated to English to check for understanding. Spanish language learners need opportunities to speak with each other in low stress ways. Find someone who activities are one of my favorite options for speaking with novice and intermediate students! In this human bingo game, students get up and use their Spanish. Download the speaking handouts here! They try and find others to fill out their sheet asking each other questions, but each student can only sign another's paper one time! There is also a follow up writing activity for students to write sentences using the information from their classmates in the third person. Vocabulary includes: alto/atélico artístico bajo bonito castaño cómico creativo delgado estudioso fuerte guapo inteligente interesante paciente pelirrojo/rubio serio simpático trabajador/trabajadora This is the perfect way to review description and adjective vocabulary while practicing the verb ser! An answer key is included, as well as a digital activity on Google Slides for absent students or another option for you! I love maze games for practicing Spanish vocabulary and grammar! In this lesson idea, students find their way through the maze by choosing the right answer on the path. They repeat those steps to find their way through the maze. Click here to download! For example, if a box reads, "Ashley _____ de los Estados Unidos.", they'll follow the path that says "es" because the subject of that sentence is the third person. They'll repeat that, step by step, until they "escape" and get to the end of the maze! This is such a fun way to gamify Spanish grammar as students work to pick the right choice and follow each correct answer out of the labyrinth. How it Works: Print & make copies, or assign the digital activity on Google Slides Students read the question in the first box They choose the correct answer and follow that path through the maze Repeat until they get to the end Along the way there are purposeful dead-ends in the maze. This is a great way to encourage critical thinking and makes these sheets self-correcting as students have to retrace their steps until they find the correct answer. Click here to read the blog post on maze games for Spanish class and grab a free download for la ciudad vocabulary. Click here to grab a free maze in the blog post! This worksheet is a great option for independent work, or even an interactive quiz. An answer key is included, too! Click here to see 10 ways to play maze games in your World Languages classes! This is probably the lowest prep option of the Spanish conjugation games in this list! Print off the board game, then just make copies. Students roll a die to move their game piece, then roll for which subject pronoun they'll conjugate for. Boom! Click here to download 2 versions of this review game! This is one of my favorite print and go activities! It's also great to have on hand for fast finishers. There are two versions of the game! One with ser and adjectives and one with se and Spanish-speaking countries. Scrambled sentences are a great way to get your students thinking and talking about the language collaboratively! Groups or partners work together to reassemble the scrambled sentence while working on the verb forms and emphasizing adjective agreement. Click here to download the worksheets! This set of activities includes instructions on how to use this game, and a few variations for you as well. One variation is a quick review that will take about 15 minutes, the other version can take up to 40 minutes with in-depth critical thinking about syntax and word order! On the worksheet, students write the Spanish sentences on each line, and in the subsequent blank sentences are translated to English to check for understanding. Spanish language learners need opportunities to speak with each other in low stress ways. Find someone who activities are one of my favorite options for speaking with novice and intermediate students! In this human bingo game, students get up and use their Spanish. Download the speaking handouts here! They try and find others to fill out their sheet asking each other questions, but each student can only sign another's paper one time! There is also a follow up writing activity for students to write sentences using the information from their classmates in the third person. Vocabulary includes: alto/atélico artístico bajo bonito castaño cómico creativo delgado estudioso fuerte guapo inteligente interesante paciente pelirrojo/rubio serio simpático trabajador/trabajadora This is the perfect way to review description and adjective vocabulary while practicing the verb ser! An answer key is included, as well as a digital activity on Google Slides for absent students or another option for you! I love maze games for practicing Spanish vocabulary and grammar! In this lesson idea, students find their way through the maze by choosing the right answer on the path. They repeat those steps to find their way through the maze. Click here to download! For example, if a box reads, "Ashley _____ de los Estados Unidos.", they'll follow the path that says "es" because the subject of that sentence is the third person. They'll repeat that, step by step, until they "escape" and get to the end of the maze! This is such a fun way to gamify Spanish grammar as students work to pick the right choice and follow each correct answer out of the labyrinth. How it Works: Print & make copies, or assign the digital activity on Google Slides Students read the question in the first box They choose the correct answer and follow that path through the maze Repeat until they get to the end Along the way there are purposeful dead-ends in the maze. This is a great way to encourage critical thinking and makes these sheets self-correcting as students have to retrace their steps until they find the correct answer. Click here to read the blog post on maze games for Spanish class and grab a free download for la ciudad vocabulary. Click here to grab a free maze in the blog post! This worksheet is a great option for independent work, or even an interactive quiz. An answer key is included, too! Click here to see 10 ways to play maze games in your World Languages classes! This is probably the lowest prep option of the Spanish conjugation games in this list! Print off the board game, then just make copies. Students roll a die to move their game piece, then roll for which subject pronoun they'll conjugate for. Boom! Click here to download 2 versions of this review game! This is one of my favorite print and go activities! It's also great to have on hand for fast finishers. There are two versions of the game! One with ser and adjectives and one with se and Spanish-speaking countries. Scrambled sentences are a great way to get your students thinking and talking about the language collaboratively! Groups or partners work together to reassemble the scrambled sentence while working on the verb forms and emphasizing adjective agreement. Click here to download the worksheets! This set of activities includes instructions on how to use this game, and a few variations for you as well. One variation is a quick review that will take about 15 minutes, the other version can take up to 40 minutes with in-depth critical thinking about syntax and word order! On the worksheet, students write the Spanish sentences on each line, and in the subsequent blank sentences are translated to English to check for understanding. Spanish language learners need opportunities to speak with each other in low stress ways. Find someone who activities are one of my favorite options for speaking with novice and intermediate students! In this human bingo game, students get up and use their Spanish. Download the speaking handouts here! They try and find others to fill out their sheet asking each other questions, but each student can only sign another's paper one time! There is also a follow up writing activity for students to write sentences using the information from their classmates in the third person. Vocabulary includes: alto/atélico artístico bajo bonito castaño cómico creativo delgado estudioso fuerte guapo inteligente interesante paciente pelirrojo/rubio serio simpático trabajador/trabajadora This is the perfect way to review description and adjective vocabulary while practicing the verb ser! An answer key is included, as well as a digital activity on Google Slides for absent students or another option for you! I love maze games for practicing Spanish vocabulary and grammar! In this lesson idea, students find their way through the maze by choosing the right answer on the path. They repeat those steps to find their way through the maze. Click here to download! For example, if a box reads, "Ashley _____ de los Estados Unidos.", they'll follow the path that says "es" because the subject of that sentence is the third person. They'll repeat that, step by step, until they "escape" and get to the end of the maze! This is such a fun way to gamify Spanish grammar as students work to pick the right choice and follow each correct answer out of the labyrinth. How it Works: Print & make copies, or assign the digital activity on Google Slides Students read the question in the first box They choose the correct answer and follow that path through the maze Repeat until they get to the end Along the way there are purposeful dead-ends in the maze. This is a great way to encourage critical thinking and makes these sheets self-correcting as students have to retrace their steps until they find the correct answer. Click here to read the blog post on maze games for Spanish class and grab a free download for la ciudad vocabulary. Click here to grab a free maze in the blog post! This worksheet is a great option for independent work, or even an interactive quiz. An answer key is included, too! Click here to see 10 ways to play maze games in your World Languages classes! This is probably the lowest prep option of the Spanish conjugation games in this list! Print off the board game, then just make copies. Students roll a die to move their game piece, then roll for which subject pronoun they'll conjugate for. Boom! Click here to download 2 versions of this review game! This is one of my favorite print and go activities! It's also great to have on hand for fast finishers. There are two versions of the game! One with ser and adjectives and one with se and Spanish-speaking countries. Scrambled sentences are a great way to get your students thinking and talking about the language collaboratively! Groups or partners work together to reassemble the scrambled sentence while working on the verb forms and emphasizing adjective agreement. Click here to download the worksheets! This set of activities includes instructions on how to use this game, and a few variations for you as well. One variation is a quick review that will take about 15 minutes, the other version can take up to 40 minutes with in-depth critical thinking about syntax and word order! On the worksheet, students write the Spanish sentences on each line, and in the subsequent blank sentences are translated to English to check for understanding. Spanish language learners need opportunities to speak with each other in low stress ways. Find someone who activities are one of my favorite options for speaking with novice and intermediate students! In this human bingo game, students get up and use their Spanish. Download the speaking handouts here! They try and find others to fill out their sheet asking each other questions, but each student can only sign another's paper one time! There is also a follow up writing activity for students to write sentences using the information from their classmates in the third person. Vocabulary includes: alto/atélico artístico bajo bonito castaño cómico creativo delgado estudioso fuerte guapo inteligente interesante paciente pelirrojo/rubio serio simpático trabajador/trabajadora This is the perfect way to review description and adjective vocabulary while practicing the verb ser! An answer key is included, as well as a digital activity on Google Slides for absent students or another option for you! I love maze games for practicing Spanish vocabulary and grammar! In this lesson idea, students find their way through the maze by choosing the right answer on the path. They repeat those steps to find their way through the maze. Click here to download! For example, if a box reads, "Ashley _____ de los Estados Unidos.", they'll follow the path that says "es" because the subject of that sentence is the third person. They'll repeat that, step by step, until they "escape" and get to the end of the maze! This is such a fun way to gamify Spanish grammar as students work to pick the right choice and follow each correct answer out of the labyrinth. How it Works: Print & make copies, or assign the digital activity on Google Slides Students read the question in the first box They choose the correct answer and follow that path through the maze Repeat until they get to the end Along the way there are purposeful dead-ends in the maze. This is a great way to encourage critical thinking and makes these sheets self-correcting as students have to retrace their steps until they find the correct answer. Click here to read the blog post on maze games for Spanish class and grab a free download for la ciudad vocabulary. Click here to grab a free maze in the blog post! This worksheet is a great option for independent work, or even an interactive quiz. An answer key is included, too! Click here to see 10 ways to play maze games in your World Languages classes! This is probably the lowest prep option of the Spanish conjugation games in this list! Print off the board game, then just make copies. Students roll a die to move their game piece, then roll for which subject pronoun they'll conjugate for. Boom! Click here to download 2 versions of this review game! This is one of my favorite print and go activities! It's also great to have on hand for fast finishers. There are two versions of the game! One with ser and adjectives and one with se and Spanish-speaking countries. Scrambled sentences are a great way to get your students thinking and talking about the language collaboratively! Groups or partners work together to reassemble the scrambled sentence while working on the verb forms and emphasizing adjective agreement. Click here to download the worksheets! This set of activities includes instructions on how to use this game, and a few variations for you as well. One variation is a quick review that will take about 15 minutes, the other version can take up to 40 minutes with in-depth critical thinking about syntax and word order! On the worksheet, students write the Spanish sentences on each line, and in the subsequent blank sentences are translated to English to check for understanding. Spanish language learners need opportunities to speak with each other in low stress ways. Find someone who activities are one of my favorite options for speaking with novice and intermediate students! In this human bingo game, students get up and use their Spanish. Download the speaking handouts here! They try and find others to fill out their sheet asking each other questions, but each student can only sign another's paper one time! There is also a follow up writing activity for students to write sentences using the information from their classmates in the third person. Vocabulary includes: alto/atélico artístico bajo bonito castaño cómico creativo delgado estudioso fuerte guapo inteligente interesante paciente pelirrojo/rubio serio simpático trabajador/trabajadora This is the perfect way to review description and adjective vocabulary while practicing the verb ser! An answer key is included, as well as a digital activity on Google Slides for absent students or another option for you! I love maze games for practicing Spanish vocabulary and grammar! In this lesson idea, students find their way through the maze by choosing the right answer on the path. They repeat those steps to find their way through the maze. Click here to download! For example, if a box reads, "Ashley _____ de los Estados Unidos.", they'll follow the path that says "es" because the subject of that sentence is the third person. They'll repeat that, step by step, until they "escape" and get to the end of the maze! This is such a fun way to gamify Spanish grammar as students work to pick the right choice and follow each correct answer out of the labyrinth. How it Works: Print & make copies, or assign the digital activity on Google Slides Students read the question in the first box They choose the correct answer and follow that path through the maze Repeat until they get to the end Along the way there are purposeful dead-ends in the maze. This is a great way to encourage critical thinking and makes these sheets self-correcting as students have to retrace their steps until they find the correct answer. Click here to read the blog post on maze games for Spanish class and grab a free download for la ciudad vocabulary. Click here to grab a free maze in the blog post! This worksheet is a great option for independent work, or even an interactive quiz. An answer key is included, too! Click here to see 10 ways to play maze games in your World Languages classes! This is probably the lowest prep option of the Spanish conjugation games in this list! Print off the board game, then just make copies. Students roll a die to move their game piece, then roll for which subject pronoun they'll conjugate for. Boom! Click here to download 2 versions of this review game! This is one of my favorite print and go activities! It's also great to have on hand for fast finishers. There are two versions of the game! One with ser and adjectives and one with se and Spanish-speaking countries. Scrambled sentences are a great way to get your students thinking and talking about the language collaboratively! Groups or partners work together to reassemble the scrambled sentence while working on the verb forms and emphasizing adjective agreement. Click here to download the worksheets! This set of activities includes instructions on how to use this game, and a few variations for you as well. One variation is a quick review that will take about 15 minutes, the other version can take up to 40 minutes with in-depth critical thinking about syntax and word order! On the worksheet, students write the Spanish sentences on each line, and in the subsequent blank sentences are translated to English to check for understanding. Spanish language learners need opportunities to speak with each other in low stress ways. Find someone who activities are one of my favorite options for speaking with novice and intermediate students! In this human bingo game, students get up and use their Spanish. Download the speaking handouts here! They try and find others to fill out their sheet asking each other questions, but each student can only sign another's paper one time! There is also a follow up writing activity for students to write sentences using the information from their classmates in the third person. Vocabulary includes: alto/atélico artístico bajo bonito castaño cómico creativo delgado estudioso fuerte guapo inteligente interesante paciente pelirrojo/rubio serio simpático trabajador/trabajadora This is the perfect way to review description and adjective vocabulary while practicing the