Watch the kissing booth 2 online

As of July 24, 2020, The Kissing Booth 2 is officially on Netflix. Already watched the sequel? Check out these teen movies also streaming right now on Netflix. Jacob Elordi, Joey King, and Joel Courtney at a screening of ‘The Kissing Booth’ | Rachel Murray/Getty Images for Netflix 1. ‘To All the Boys I’ve Loved Before’ Another Netflix original adapted from a book is To All the Boys I’ve Loved Before. Directed by Susan Johnson and based on the Young Adult novel of the same name by author Jenny Han, it’s got all the hallmarks of a teen rom-com. Lara Jean (Lana Condor) is a teen who, at one time or another, has written love letters to boys she’s had a crush on. The catch? She doesn’t send them. Instead, she professes her feelings on paper then keeps the letters hidden away in her room. That is until one day they’re mysteriously mailed. RELATED: ‘The Kissing Booth’ Author on Why It Became a Series: ‘I Couldn’t Let Go of the Characters’ Peter Kavinsky (Noah Centineo) confronts Lara Jean about the letter — one she wrote to him years earlier — and the two hatch a plan to be in a fake relationship. Lara Jean agrees so she can hide the feelings she has for Josh (Israel Broussard), her sister’s ex-boyfriend. Meanwhile, Peter signs on to show Gen (Emilija Baranac) he can be happy without her in his life. In the process of their pretend romance, Peter and Lara Jean develop feelings for each other. 2. ‘To All the Boys: P.S. I Still Love You’ Watch Peter and Lara Jean as they try dating for real in 2020’s To All the Boys: P.S. I Still Love You. They soon realize relationships are tricky. The dynamics between them get even more complicated when Lara Jean comes face to face with John Ambrose (Jordan Fisher), a boy she wrote a letter to when they were kids. They cross paths doing volunteer work and Lara Jean quickly realizes she might have feelings for her long lost crush. 3. ‘Dumplin’ Premiering on Netflix in 2018, Dumplin’ tells the story of Willowdean Dixon (Danielle Macdonald). She’s the daughter of Rosie (Jennifer Aniston), a local celebrity in a small Texas town for winning beauty pageants. RELATED: Is ‘The Kissing Booth 3’ Coming to Netflix? Joey King Says the Cast Wants to Return for Another Round Willowdean decides to enter her mom’s Miss Teen Bluebonnet pageant as a protest. The move inspires others who don’t fit the typical pageant mold to sign up too. 4. ‘Sierra Burgess Is a Loser’ Want more from To All the Boys I’ve Loved Before actor Centineo? See him in another Netflix original, Sierra Burgess Is a Loser. He plays Jamey, one of the most popular boys in school. He mistakenly texts Sierra Burgess (Shannon Purser) thinking she’s cheerleader Veronica (Kristine Froseth). Sierra offers to help Veronica improve her grades if she helps her with Jamey in return. 5. ‘The Perfect Date’ Another Netflix original starring Centineo is 2019’s The Perfect Date. He plays Brooks Rattigan, a high school student who saves up for college by creating an app where people can hire him to be the perfect stand-in date. RELATED: ‘The Kissing Booth 2’ Stars Jacob Elordi and Joey King Reveal How They Found ‘Balance’ After Their Public Romance and Split Fans of The Kissing Booth 2, don’t fret. There are plenty of other teen movies to watch after catching up on the latest from Elle (Joey King), Lee (Joel Courtney), and Noah (Jacob Elordi). Follow it up with one of these ‘80s teen movies streaming right now on Hulu. Don’t have Hulu? Check out teen movies on Netflix to fill the void until The Kissing Booth 3. 1. ‘Risky Business’ RELATED: ‘The Kissing Booth’ Author on Why It Became a Series: ‘I Couldn’t Let Go of the Characters’ Never seen Risky Business? Now’s the time to watch Tom Cruise in one of his most iconic movies ever. 1983’s Risky Business features the three-time Oscar nominee playing Joel, a Chicago teen who wants to let loose and have some fun while his parents are away for the weekend. Just 21-years-old during the making of the film, Cruise’s most memorable Risky Business scene is when he dances around in his socks and underwear to Bob Seger’s “Old Time Rock ‘n’ Roll.” The scene inspired commercials, Saturday Night Live skits, and had people flocking to movie theaters. To this day, the scene and Cruise’s outfit has a place in pop culture. 2. ‘Girls Just Want to Have Fun’ Another throwback is Sarah Jessica Parker’s turn as a dance-loving teen in 1985’s Girls Just Want to Have Fun. Years before she portrayed Carrie Bradshaw on HBO’s Sex and the City, Parker played Janey, a teen who loved watching a dance competition TV series after school. Sarah Jessica Parker and Helen Hunt in ‘Girls Just Want to Have Fun’ | New World Pictures/Getty Images RELATED: ‘The Kissing Booth 2’ Is Here and These 4 Things Don’t Make Sense About It The only problem is that Janey’s strict father doesn’t approve of her extracurricular activities. When she moves to a new town and befriends her classmate, Lynne (Helen Hunt), Janey finds herself disobeying her father for the first time and entering the dance competition. Besides seeing Parker and Hunt in the earlier days of their acting careers, Shannen Doherty shows up in her pre-Beverly Hills, 90210 days. 3. ‘Footloose’ Another big hit from the ‘80s that’s become a classic like Risky Business is 1984’s Footloose. A young Kevin Bacon plays high school student Ren McCormack. His character moves from Chicago to a small Midwestern town from only to discover there’s a ban on dancing and rock ‘n’ roll music. RELATED: ‘The Kissing Booth 2’: Why the First Filmed Marco Scene Gave Taylor Zakhar Perez Butterflies in His Stomach Ren tries to change things in his new home but realizes it might be harder than he anticipates thanks to John Lithgow’s character, Rev. Shaw Moore. Despite the no-dancing rule, there’s plenty of it in Footloose. Today, Footloose remains one of Bacon’s most recognizable movie roles ever. It’s become part of pop culture even getting referenced in Guardians of the Galaxy references Footloose. 4. ‘Heathers’ Before 2004’s Mean Girls introduced the world to The Plastics there was Heathers. The 1989 film directed by Michael Lehmann follows Veronica (Winona Ryder) and J.D. (Christian Slater) as they exact revenge on the mean girl group known as the Heathers. Shannen Doherty, Lisanne Falk, Kim Walker, and Winona Ryder in ‘Heathers’ | New World Pictures/Getty Images Besides having a standout rating on Rotten Tomatoes, this features another appearance from Doherty before her Beverly Hills, 90210 days. RELATED: The Best Horror Movies for Teens: From ‘Poltergeist’ to ‘Happy Death Day’ Two years later, The Kissing Booth is finally back open for business. The sequel to the Netflix original movie, starring Joey King, Jacob Elordi, Joel Courtney, and Molly Ringwald is officially set to hit the streaming service on 24th July. Judging by the new trailer, The Kissing Booth 2 seems to promise just as many ups and downs in the messy realms of love and friendship as the first.Based on the novel of the same name by Beth Reekles, the story continues right where the first left off. In the original, Elle (King) falls into a somewhat complicated whirlwind romance with Noah (Elordi), even though dating him threatens her best-friendship with his younger brother Lee (Courtney). After a series of hurdles and hilarious twists of fate, however, Lee and Elle work it out and Elle spends a happy summer with Noah before he goes off to Harvard.In the sequel, Elle and Noah navigate maintaining a long-distance relationship, even though Elle is suspicious that her boyfriend might be enjoying college and his new female classmates more than she would like. On her end, Elle is once again faced with trying to book unwilling talent for the kissing booth — this time, the handsome, confident new “snack” Marco (Taylor Zakhar Perez), who seems to have his eye on Elle. And of course, her budding love triangle and ever-changing future plans promise to mess with her precious relationship with Noah. Times change, but boy problems basically stay the same.
