In Neverwinter, there are currently 22 different modules, each with its own set of missions and tasks, called campaign. To progress in the game, you should complete these campaigns complete "commercial missions." The most fashionable and mostly to complete "commercial missions". There are almost always groups that execute heroic meetings in the Rão district. The conclusion of tasks can be completely omitted. Cultivating coins and articles of undercover ascent evidence of evil: 25 daily daily €AAA Mercantile Missions€AAA and 20 from the €AAA Weekly RitualeAAA Quest.Secrets of the Many-Starred: 28 From €AAA Weekly Ritual and 4 daily from €AAAMercantile Missions€AAAAbandoned Treasures: Very easily obtained from Heroic Encounters and from the weekly dungeons Various other items for weapon restoration can also be acquired here but the weapons are now outdated. Completing Jungles of Chult and Lost City of Omu The big difference between Chult and previous mods is that the campaigns can be completed at any time during the week. You can do it all on Monday if you like or you can spread it out. Doing everything doesn€AAAt take very long either, but the mobs here are a bit tougher so you might need to gear up before starting here. (See our Gearing Up Guide for tips.) These zones are usually pretty populated with other people doing the quests so a lot of the hard ones like €AAAHouse of the Crocodile€AAA and €AAAFane of the Night Serpent€AAA usually have folks that are also looking to complete it and will actively put groups together through the zone chat. The fastest way to unlock all of Chult and Omu is to do all available quests from Celeste, Wakanga O€AAAAtamu and Ekene-Afa, as well as the quests from the camps in Soshenstar River and Lost City of Omu, until you have reached the full weekly haul. Most of the gear from hunts here is now outdated so you can go ahead and skip unlocking the hunts if you want, which will save you a lot of time. Farming Jungles of Chult and Lost City of Omu Currencies and Items Forgotten Totems: From Quests from Celeste and Wakanga O€AAAAtamu and in Soshenstar River.Lost Idols: From Quests from Celeste and Wakanga O€AAAAtamu and in Lost City of Omu.Chultan Riches:Ä ÅFrom all content that is in Soshenstar. You will easily gain these, but all the items you can purchase with them are outdated.Omuan Treasures: From all quests in Omu. Only good for buying the Primal Paints.EkueAAAs and Makos€AAA Favor:Ä ÅFrom Lore € that falls from Thayans in Omu, or from "Bundle of Lich Lore" of the heroic encounter of the tyrant. Useful for items like the ring of offensive action. Just 1 a week. I used to exalt your weapons. Completing Ravenloft Ravenloft is very easy to start, but a little harder to complete. Any character should be able to do the introductory search, as the only fight in the search can be left to the NPCs. For the new characters, you will also get a chest with a complete set of equipment, which will be useful. Like Chult and Omu, Ravenloft only has a weekly limit and you can end the entire week of progress at any time during the week. After the introduction search, things get harder, and you'll need a fairly high level of elements to progress farther. However, you can find groups that are doing missions that make it possible for a newer character to progress. You must complete all the tasks of the campaign, but they are pretty fast once you start and complete the entire campaign only takes a few weeks. Farming Ravenloft Coins and Items Barovian Coins: from missions, heroic encounters and hunts. These are really easy to get, but if you need to grow them for equipment, hunting with active Tarokka cards is probably the fastest way. Mensos: daily and weekly missions. Posters: 1 star fall of the peats and 2 and 3 stars of the heads of 1 star. Completing the heart of fire / acquisitions incorporated the built-in procurement campaign can be started at level 15, and more unlocked as it rises. Start the campaign by clicking on one of the posters around PE, then doing a brief search in the Blacklake district. The rest of the campaign focuses on the IA headquarters in physical education. Just talk to Omin Dran and Jimand do the missions you are given to fill your weekly tour.
