After Mary Lennox is orphaned, she becomes the ward of an uncle in England she has never met. As she adjusts to her new life at secluded Misselthwaite Manor, Mary discovers a secret garden. If she can uncover the mysterious circumstances behind the garden, she might be able to save her sickly young cousin and melt the heart of her emotionally distant uncle. A touching coming-of-age story, based on the classic novel. Drama | 65 - 75 minutes 3 W, 4 M, 1 Any (8-10 actors possible: 3-4 W, 4-7 M) Set: Interiors/Exteriors: Misselthwaite Manor, The Secret Garden. Cast Size: 12-48 actors (4F, 5M, 3 any) Synopsis: Orphaned young Mary Lennox finds herself in the charge of a mysterious uncle, in a mysterious house, on the desolate moor in England. Bored and lonely, she starts exploring the gardens and uncovers a secret that has been kept for ten years. But why is everyone here keeping secrets? And who is crying in the house late at night? As spring arrives, the power of nature begins to unlock a beautiful new...Read More The music and songs in this play are influenced by both cultures that have helped shaped Mary: India and England, and also reflect the changing moods of the book. Some songs are melancholy while others are joyous, hopeful, and even cathartic. The final piece is a whole cast number called "The Magic". This adaptation of the famous novel tries to honor Francis Hodgson Burnett's original work as much as possible. It is the story of a girl named Mary born in India to wealthy British parents who neglect her. Mary is raised by her family's Indian servants and she becomes a very spoiled, unhappy girl. After a series of unfortunate events, she ends up living in a huge manor in the English countryside where she finds much healing in the mysterious garden she discovers. She makes some unexpected friends including a few animals who assist in her transformation along with a sickly boy who thinks he's dying and who is the son of the estate's owner. Performing this very moving play can help to inspire kids to become interested in great children's literature like the Secret Garden. At the beginning of the script you will find the director's notes which include notes on the production, costumes, ideas for the set and needed stage props. So if you're anti-spoiler, pause this, read all 14 books, and come back. We'll be here. Waiting. Emily: Our title is a joke and is meant to be taken as such. In the context of this podcast, "everybody" refers to us and our cat. You are free to feel however you want about Rand, who is a fictional character. Don't DM us. (theme song by Glynna MacKenzie plays) Emily: Yeah, now we can, Sally, kick off back into Wheel of Time world. (laugh) This is Everybody Hates Rand. It's your friendly neighborhood Wheel of Time podcast. Uh, I am Emily Juchau. Sally: I am Sally Goodger. Emily: And, um, here we are. We have entered -- and I really do need to get one of those apps that makes air horn noises -- I swear I say this every time, but -- Sally: I might have one. Hold on. Emily: Um, we're in climax territory. And yes, you can smile because "climax" is a double entendre for sex stuff. (laugh) Sally: I think I deleted my air horn app. Emily: Oh, no. (laugh) Sally: Because I needed to clear -- wait, hold on. I guess I can just search it. Air -- horn -- sound. (air horn sound) Sally: There we go. Emily: That wasn't as exciting -- I wanted it to be like, "Ba! Ba ba ba!" Sally: Sorry. Charity www.bethesayyouare.org Set in 1911, Mary Lennox is a ten-year-old girl born in India to a wealthy British couple. Neglected and unloved by her parents because of her sickly appearance, she is mostly taken care of by servants. As a result, Mary becomes arrogant, hostile, and self-centered. After her parents die due to an outbreak of cholera, she is sent to live with her uncle in Yorkshire. Mary starts to spend her days out in nature and almost instantly it has an incredible positive effect on her. Connecting with the people and the world around her she becomes healthier and her attitude drastically improves over time. She discovers the secret garden of her late aunt, and befriends a boy named Dickon, who has a special connection to animals and great gardening abilities. One-night Mary also discovers a boy of her age named Colin living in a hidden bedroom in the manor. She finds out that not only is he sick and unable to leave his bed, but also her cousin. As she gets to know him better, she becomes aware of how spoiled and self-centered he is. After Mary is upfront with him about his negative traits, he then also starts to go outside to the garden, which he had not done in years. Being around nature and friends, Colin's health and perspective on life starts to change for the better.
