Nothing too dramatic - the VIX volatility index is still below 18. The yield on the 10-year Treasury note is higher at 4.09%. Crude oil prices are up 1.5%, and gold prices are higher as well. Bitcoin continues its swoon. Lowe's is the world's second-largest home improvement retailer, with sales of $84 billion in FY25. Based in Mooresville, North Carolina, the company operated about 1,750 home improvement and hardware stores in the U.S. at the end of FY25. Retail selling space was 195 million square feet. Home Decor, which includes appliances and paint, was the biggest merchandise division at 37% of FY25 sales. Building Products, including lumber, was 32%; Hardlines, including tools, seasonal, and lawn & garden, was 29%; Other categories represented under 3% of sales. About 70% of sales are to individuals and 30% are to maintenance, repair, operations and construction professionals. The states with more than 100 stores at the end of FY25 were Texas, Florida, North Carolina and California. Stores stock about 40,000 items. Online sales represent approximately 11% of the company's total in FY24. The company's fiscal year ends on the Friday closest to the end of January. Based on the fiscal calendar, FY17 had a 53rd week, which happens about every five years. FY23 was also 53-week fiscal year. FY26 will end on January 31, 2026. Lowe's is the second-largest home improvement retailer globally, with more than 1,750 stores in the US, after the 2023 divestiture of its Canadian locations (RONA, Lowes Canada, Rno-Dpt, and Dicks Lumber). The firms stores offer products and services for home decorating, maintenance, repair, and remodeling, with maintenance and repair accounting for two-thirds of products sold. Lowe's primarily targets retail do-it-yourself (around 70% of sales) and do-it-for-me customers, but has expanded its professional business clients to 30% from less than 20% in the past six years (set ot expand further with the acquisition of FBM). We estimate Lowe's captures a high-single-digit share of the domestic home improvement market, based on US Census data and managements market size estimates.
