The 2025 MLB All-Star Game was a historic event that concluded with the National League emerging victorious in a thrilling swing-off. The game was tied at 6 after nine innings, but Kyle Schwarber's impressive performance, including hitting three home runs, led his team to victory. The introduction of the ABS system for the first time in Major League play added an exciting element to the contest.The NL reclaimed the All-Star Game title after a one-year loss, while the decisions made by Aaron Boone and Dave Roberts regarding the swing-off format are likely to be scrutinized during the regular season. The game showcased exceptional talent, including Pete Alonso and Corbin Carroll hitting home runs in the bottom of the sixth, but ultimately fell short.The AL put up a strong fight, with six unanswered runs in the final innings to tie the game. However, Aroldis Chapman's outstanding performance in the bottom of the ninth secured the victory for the NL. The game will be remembered as one of the most exciting All-Star Games in recent history, and fans eagerly anticipate the return of this format.###The National League (NL) took an early lead in the All-Star Game, with designated hitter Brent Rooker hitting a long home run that avenged his first-round exit in yesterday's Home Run Derby : FOX pic.twitter.com/FfjroSdQP9 FOX Sports: MLB (@MLBONFOX) July 16, 2025Corbin Carroll added to the NL lead with a solo shot in the bottom of the sixth inning.
